

I.V. Solutions Ltd - Technical Writing Services

I.V. Solutions Ltd provide the following core services:

- Writing technical documentation, for example in the IT sector
 - Designing and delivering training programmes for technical authors (authors, editors, bid writers and others writing business English)
 - Providing consultant authoring specialists needed to fulfil specific projects
 - Ensuring quality in all aspects of the documentation process

Why Choose I.V. Solutions Ltd?

- We can find the technical authoring consultants you need for your projects. All candidates must pass our proven assessment test.
- We work only with expert technical writing consultants who have worked successfully in blue-chip global organisations (typically over 20 years in the industry).
- We have deep experience of training technical authors and of developing training courses (including training for technical authors whose first language is not English).
- We have a strong quality focus and have developed a process for validating the quality of product documentation (IVS Quality Audit). Always strategic in our approach, we use audit results to give guidance on training needs and process improvements.
- We value our customers and business partners. Our relationships are long-term and strategic. We ascribe this to the quality of the services we provide and the experience of our consultants.

I.V. Solutions Ltd deliver services to both public and private sectors in the UK, and internationally. Our focus areas include information technology (IT), central and local government, finance, transport (including aviation), telecommunications, broadcasting and utilities.
